

Pronouns:

What Is a Pronoun?

A small word
that makes a big difference! ♥

Rahul

He

Substitutes
♥

1 Quick Summary

A pronoun is a word that takes the place of a noun (a person, place, animal or thing).

For example:

Rahul is tall.
Rahul runs fast.

Rahul is tall.
He runs fast.

We use
"he" instead of repeating
"Rahul".

2 Memory Trick

Pronouns are backup players— they step in so nouns don't have to repeat themselves too much!

Same person,
different word!
♥

3 Common Personal Pronouns

These are the most common pronouns we use every day. They can take the place of a person, place, animal or thing.

I

I am happy.

Used for myself

you

You are kind.

Used for the person
we are talking to

he

He is a student.

Used for a boy or man

she

She is my friend.

Used for a girl or woman

it

It is a dog.

Used for an animal or thing

we

We are classmates.

Used for a group including us

they

They are friends.

Used for
a group of people,
animals or things

4 Why It Matters

Pronouns make our sentences:

- ✓ Smoother (less repeating)
- ✓ Shorter (easier to say and write)
- ✓ More natural (how we speak in real life)

Instead of repeating
nouns again and again,
we can use pronouns!

Maya is smart.
Maya helps others.

Maya is smart.
She helps others.

1 Subject Pronouns

Subject pronouns do the action in a sentence. They tell us who is doing something.

| Pronoun |                                                                                     | Example Sentence       |
|---------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------|
| I       |  | I am learning English. |
| you     |  | You are very kind.     |
| he      |  | He plays football.     |
| she     |  | She reads a book.      |
| it      |  | It is a cute dog.      |
| we      |  | We are friends.        |
| they    |  | They go to school.     |

2 Object Pronouns

Object pronouns receive the action in a sentence. They tell us who or what is receiving something.

| Pronoun |                                                                                       | Example Sentence          |
|---------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------|
| me      |  | She called me.            |
| you     |  | I can see you.            |
| him     |  | We helped him.            |
| her     |  | Give this book to her.    |
| it      |  | I like it.                |
| us      |  | Please join us.           |
| them    |  | The teacher praised them. |

3 Real-Life Examples

Look at how subject and object pronouns work together in a sentence.

She gave the book to him.

Subject
(do the action)

Object
(receive the action)

We passed the ball to them.

Subject
(do the action)

Object
(receive the action)

I gave a gift to you.

Subject
(do the action)

Object
(receive the action)

4 Common Mistakes

Be careful! Use the correct pronoun. Don't use a subject pronoun where an object pronoun is needed.

He gave it to I.
(Incorrect)

He gave it to me.
(Correct)

She called him and he.
(Incorrect)

She called him and me.
(Correct)

We saw she at the park.
(Incorrect)
